DEFENSE DISTRIBUTION CENTER WOMEN'S CLUB PRESENTS CHARITABLE DONATIONS, SCHOLARSHIPS

NEW CUMBERLAND, PA – The Defense Distribution Depot Women's Club (DWC) presented $14,500 in charitable donations and youth scholarships at their May luncheon held at the Susquehanna Club. The DWC is a generous organization whose purpose is to further the well being of the military and civilian community. Funds are raised during the year by various club sponsored events.

Sook Yee Naber, DWC President, and Jennifer Lally, DWC 1st Vice President, presented donations to the following organizations: DDSP Family Services, New Cumberland Installation Underprivileged Children's Christmas Party, New Cumberland Library, Salvation Army Youth Camp, Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Lebanon Pa.; and the St. Theresa School, and Hospice of Central Pa.

Defense Distribution Depot Susquehanna, Pa., Commander Navy Capt James Naber, and DWC Scholarship Co-chairs Heidi Castle and Marie Libhart presented college scholarships to seven deserving seniors. Awards were based on academic achievement, leadership, school activities, and letters of recommendation, essays and community involvement.

Forty-four years ago, the DWC awarded its first scholarship. The Depot Women's Club is proud of the 2006 recipients and considers it an honor to have presented each of the following with a scholarship award.

Jeremy W. Naber, son of Navy Capt. James and Sook Yee Naber, plans to attend Duquesne University.

Amanda N. Holdorf, daughter of Chuck and Joann Holdorf, plans to attend Immaculata University

Melissa D. Mueller, daughter of Eric Mueller and Jan Collier, plans to attend Penn State University.

Kenneth J. DesJardins, son of Kenneth T. and Tammy DesJardins, plans to attend Penn State University.

Valecia M.H. Wilson, daughter of Gwendolyn Hoover, plans to attend Hampton University.

Maranda C. Lender, daughter of Brad and Rebecca Lender, plans to attend the Pennsylvania College of Art & Design.

Kristen Lowery, daughter of Keith and Karen Lowery, plans to attend Shippensburg University.

In addition to the above, a scholarship was presented by the First Command Educational Foundation, located in Carlisle, to the following military family member:

Kristina Hancock, daughter of Marlin and Teresa Hancock, plans to attend Bloomsburg University.

The Defense Distribution Center is headquartered in Fairview Township, York County, Pa., and is responsible for receiving, storing and issuing more than four million military items annually in support of Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and other federal agencies worldwide. DDC is comprised of nearly 8,000 military and civilian personnel in 26 centers located throughout the United States, Europe, Hawaii, Guam, Korea, and Japan.

Defense Distribution Center, New Cumberland, Pa., is the Defense Logistics Agency's Lead Center for Distribution. DLA provides supply support and technical and logistics services to the military services and to several civilian agencies. Headquartered at Fort Belvoir, Va., DLA is the one source for nearly every consumable item, whether for combat readiness, emergency preparedness or day-to-day operations.
